What Recession?

It's a lobster-fest at Angelini. The new Sunday lunch buffet at Kowloon Shangri-La's Italian restaurant features a selection of Italian antipasti, soups, salads and—most importantly—unlimited orders of fresh Boston lobster. The $468 lunch also includes free flowing Prosecco, juices and a glass of limoncello, not to mention Chef Vittorio's famous desserts to end the meal. Mezzanine, Kowloon Shangri-La Hotel, 64 Mody Rd., Tsim Sha Tsui, 2733-8901.

LET'S DO LUNCH

Dim Sum More

Shanghai Dream has a fantastic all-you-can-eat brunch Monday through Friday from noon to 2:30pm. The brunch features a buffet of appetizers and desserts and unlimited orders on various hot dishes and dim sum items, including steamed xiao long bao, har gow and siu mai. And at $88 per person, it's probably one of the best deals around. A similar brunch is also available on weekends and costs $98 for adults and—get this—a mere $38 for children under 1.2 meters tall. G/F, Harbourfront Horizon, 8 Hung Luen Rd., Hung Hom, 2269-7888.

Use your Noodle

This summer sees a new selection of refreshing lunch options at Unkai Japanese restaurant at the Sheraton Hotel. Light lunch options such as the cold noodle set are perfect for beating the summer heat, or you can savor the artwork-worthy, exquisitely prepared food items from the summer kaiseki set. In addition to these menu additions, customers can upgrade their lunch sets with gourmet items at a special promotional price. Add an assortment of sashimi to your set for $200 or go for the foie gras teppanyaki with fresh salad at $128. Unkai, 3/F, Sheraton Hotel, 20 Nathan Rd., Tsim Sha Tsui, 2369-1111.
